The image features a central computer monitor on a dark blue background. The monitor's screen displays the text "Security Awareness Program" in a bold, black, sans-serif font. Above the monitor, a grid of white, pixelated alien icons is arranged in four rows. The top three rows consist of identical alien icons, while the bottom row contains a mix of alien icons and starburst symbols. Two grey microscopes are positioned on either side of the monitor, with white dashed lines extending from their lenses towards the screen. The overall aesthetic is clean and modern, with a focus on digital security.
